

Emmeline Pankhurst

This is Emmeline Pankhurst and she was born in 1858 in Manchester. When she was younger she noticed that women couldn't vote. She is significant because she fought for women's rights. Emmeline Pankhurst threw a brick at the Prime Minister's widow to protest. She helped change the law in 1928. She died in 1928 when she was 69 years old.

By Mia