

Easter Games!

Here are 7 Easter games you could play with your family during the Easter break!

1. Water Balloon "Egg" Toss

Head outside and split into pairs. Have each pair toss water balloon "eggs" back and forth. When someone drops an egg, their team is out/loses a point. You can also play this game inside by using plastic eggs filled with sweets or confetti.

2. Hula Hoop Aim Game

Set up five hula hoops on the floor and assign a point value to each (for example the closest hula hoop is 10 points and the furthest hula hoop is 50). Give each player five wooden eggs (or bean bags, balls etc). Throw the eggs into the hoops to see who can rack up the most points.

3. Egg and Spoon Race Game

Host an old fashioned family egg and spoon race - dash to the finish line without dropping the egg.

4. Bunny Hop Sack Race

Turn a sack (or old pillow case) into hours of Easter fun. Set up each player with a sack and race to the finish line.

5. Pin the Tail on the Bunny

Donkey, who? This version of Pin the Tail is the hoppiest one yet. Set up a large picture of a rabbit and stick to window/wall. Player gets blindfolded and has to stick a piece of cotton wool onto where they think the rabbit's tail should be!

6. Clue Hunt

Everything's a bit more fun with a little mystery. Hide the plastic eggs (clues) and sweets/Easter eggs separately and see if your child can read and work out the clue as to where to find their treat.

7. Easter Egg Advent Calendar

Christmas gets a fun countdown, so why not Easter? The kids can start counting down the days until Easter Sunday with these confetti-filled eggs. Each egg contains a slip of paper with a fun activity or privilege (like staying up past bedtime) written on it.
